
The Virgin Islands
DAILY NEWS
A Pulitzer Prize-Winning Newspaper

October 23, 2025

Briefs

Paddle for the Paws

There will be a Paddle for the Paws fundraiser, starting at 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 25 at Maho Bay. The downwind paddle from Maho to Cruz Bay will start promptly at 8:30 a.m. This is for experienced paddlers, and will largely be self-supported, with St. John Rescue providing safety support along the way. Paddle boards and kayaks are welcome. Costumes are encouraged, such as witch, warlock, or cat. After the paddle, head to the Back Bar in Cruz Bay at 11 a.m. for the Black Cat Party, to benefit the Animal Care Center.

St. John Cancer Fund Block Party

St. John Cancer Fund will host a Block Party, from 6 p.m. to midnight Saturday, Oct 25 in Cruz Bay. Music by DJ Adonis Morton and Jam Band. There will be face painting and pumpkin painting for the kids and fun for the whole family by The Pelican Post.

Agriculture Town Hall

The Local Food and Farm Council invites farmers, fishers and the local community to attend a town hall, from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday at the Cleone

Creque Legislative Conference Room.

The meeting will also be available via Zoom at bit.ly/AGPLANACTION. Meeting ID: 385 092 9463.

The town hall will provide an opportunity to learn the territory's agricultural plan in action and to participate in important dialog regarding priorities in agriculture and fisheries, with a focus on sustainability, support and community engagement.

The LFFC is charged with guiding the implementation of the territorial Agricultural Plan which was ratified by the V.I. Legislature and endorsed by Gov. Albert Bryan Jr.